The Pastor's Pen

What do you think of when you think about the month of May? Do you eagerly await the arrival of the May flowers that April's showers are supposed to bring? Are you counting down the days until school's out and the summer unofficially begins? Or is there something else that comes to mind?

As I sat down at looked at my calendar for the month of May last week, I was overwhelmed by all of the events and occasions happening this month. As a culture we'll celebrate Mother's Day and Memorial Day this month. As a church we've honored our senior adults and all that they have and continue to do for our congregation, and later this month we'll gather to worship on Ascension Sunday, Pentecost Sunday, and Trinity Sunday. We also have a month long emphasis on missions this month.

With everything that is going on this month, it's enough to leave me feeling like I've just raced against a bunch of thoroughbreds in the Kentucky Derby – which is really what the month of May is famous for...at least in our part of the world. And when things get as hectic as they may this month, it's always nice to be reminded of these words from Jesus recorded in Matthew 6:34:

"Stop worrying about tomorrow, because tomorrow will worry about itself."

But it's also nice to remember the words that proceed this verse in Matthew 6:33. Jesus says, "Desire first and foremost God's kingdom and God's righteousness." So this month, and any month for that matter, when life starts feeling a little hectic and overwhelming, remember that we don't need to worry about tomorrow...it will worry about itself. But what we do need to do is remain focused on the kingdom of God and being the people God has called us to be.
