For these weeks of the Lenten season, we have been traveling the road to the Cross. We have walked with those first disciples who faltered and questioned and failed and betrayed. All of us are in need of forgiveness. All of us have had to take an honest look at how we are living and how much like them we are. It is not an easy journey but it is a necessary one. The candles of the Lenten have been extinguished one by one as we recall the last words of Jesus on the cross. We have a deeper gratitude for what God in Christ has done for us. I am grateful for a congregation that is willing to walk this road and ready to find a renewed commitment to our Lord. Our lives will show the evidence of having been with Him.

We look forward now to the final days of the journey --- Palm Sunday, Holy Week, Good Friday, then the high celebration for Christians on Easter Sunday. The choir will present the message on Palm Sunday with the cantata, ---Amen! This is a clear and powerful presentation of the Gospel. You will be blessed by their music. On Good Friday evening we will continue the church's tradition of a communion service. This will begin at 6 p.m. and also include music by our choir. I hope you will be present for this time of deep reflection and worship. And then EASTER! Nothing can thrill the hearts of Christians more than to know that we are followers of a living Lord. The grave could not hold him. The life he promised us, as followers, is eternal life, life fully completed in the presence of the Father.

So come to celebrate! Bring family, friends and neighbors to celebrate with us. Pray for many of our neighbors to come join us. Five hundred packets of information about our church were placed on doorknobs recently, inviting those residents to come worship with us. Be here with me to welcome them.

Thanks to all of you for your kind cards and notes of sympathy at this time of sorrow on the loss of our sister, Joan Doney. Many of you have joined us in prayers over the past several years. We ask for your continued prayers during this time of grief. You are a people of great love. We really appreciate each of you.
